Just wanted to reach out and see where you may be at on this one and make sure it will work for tomorrow's paper? Working under the classic deadline

Thanks,
Nikki

Subject: The Freeman - interview questions

Hi Nick,

In regards to the story I'm working on for tomorrow's paper, here are the questions I have for you. I've reached out to other law enforcement agencies in the county for additional comment. The story is drawing in local law enforcement perspective on some questions related to officer response as well as the Kenosha events:

- When confronted with a situation where you're dealing with someone that isn't cooperative, how do you engage with them —what is the rising level of use of force?
- I'm sure different scenarios result in different actions taken, what sort of scenarios might escalate use of force (such as if the individual has a weapon on them, if the individual does not have a weapon on them, if there is the possibility of a weapon, if the individual is evading officers commands?) What actions can arise to the level of threatening an officer?
- What actions arise to the level of firing at a suspect?
- What do you think may contribute to an individual's decision to evade law enforcement or not cooperate with an officer?
- What recommendations do you have for people that have a run-in with law enforcement?
- What are your thoughts on the events that transpired in Kenosha and the death of Jacob Blake? What are your thoughts on the following shooting by Kyle Rittenhouse and the deaths of two protesters?
- Is there anything you wish to add to the story?

Obviously, this can be a sensitive subject. I appreciate you taking the time and feel area readers will feel the same. If you have any questions related to the story, feel free to email me or call me at 262-513-2651.
