Background:

Due to increasing interest from Congress and the new administration in safeguarding elections, USCIS's Immigration Records and Identity Services (IRIS) is developing a Voter Verification Service (VVS). This service aims to ensure that only citizens can vote in federal elections. The concept involves allowing state agencies to run voter registration and voter list maintenance queries to receive official responses about a voter's citizenship status using biographic information and common identifiers. USCIS recently partnered with the National Association of Secretaries of State (NASS) to involve key stakeholders at the state level.

USCIS Impact:

USCIS IRIS has held various meetings with states and state and federal agencies to gather requirements and determine feasibility of creating a federal Voter Verification Service (VVS).

Action Items and Taskers

(b)(5) (b)(7)(E)

Takeaways

- Clear Communication: The tool should have clear communication on its usage to avoid a spike in customer service calls.
- User Impact: The goal is to ensure the tool does not negatively impact customer support and is easy for states to use.
