President Donald J. Trump's relentless commitment to securing our homeland has delivered a seismic turnaround that stopped the flood of illegal crossings, deadly cartels, and national security threats dead in their tracks — and the work remains ongoing.

- Historic Reductions in Illegal Immigration: Illegal border crossings have plummeted to their lowest level since the 1970s, with migrant encounters at the U.S.-Mexico border dropping dramatically in 2025. The U.S. achieved negative net migration in 2025 — the first time in over 50 years — reversing decades of unchecked migration and restoring control over our sovereignty.
- Mass Removals and Deterrence: Nearly three million illegal aliens have left the U.S., including over 675,000 deportations — more than 400,000 of whom were illegal aliens charged with or convicted of crimes — and 2.2 million self-deportations.
- Zero Releases and Strong Deterrence: No illegal aliens have been released into the interior for nine straight months — finally ending catch-and-release policies nationwide and achieving a 99.9% reduction in interior releases compared to the prior Administration.
- Crushing Fentanyl and Cartel Threats: In 2025, fentanyl trafficking at the southern border was cut by 56% compared to the previous year. President Trump signed the HALT Fentanyl Act to permanently classify fentanyl-related substances as Schedule I drugs, designated nearly a dozen major Latin American cartels — including Tren de Aragua, MS-13, and Clan del Golfo — as terrorist organizations, and blocked more than 10,000 individuals with narcoterrorist ties from entering the country.
- Border Wall and Enforcement Surge: On Day One, President Trump declared a national border emergency, resumed and expanded border wall construction [redacted] miles underway in key sectors like El Paso and the Rio Grande Valley, [redacted]

Guard and active-duty military to the border, reinstated Remain in Mexico, and repurposed the CBP One app to facilitate self-deportations.

- Enhanced Interior Security and Resource Protection: The Trump Administration doubled ICE's workforce, expanded detention capacity — including the largest migrant facility in U.S. history, conducted over 206 million benefits eligibility checks to preserve programs for Americans, terminated benefits for at least 1.4 million ineligible illegal aliens, and located over 132,000 unaccompanied children lost under the prior Administration.
- Visa and Status Reforms: The Trump Administration has revoked over 100,000 visas for fraud, criminal activity, or other security concerns, paused immigrant visa processing for 75 high-risk countries, revoked Temporary Protected Status for hundreds of thousands from countries like Somalia, Venezuela, and Haiti, and suspended refugee resettlement.

Detention Standards

Regardless of whether detention facilities are owned and operated by ICE, a state or local entity, or a contractor, all facilities housing ICE detainees must comply with one of several sets of detention standards which describe a facility's immigration detention responsibilities, explain what detainee services a facility must provide, and identify what a facility must do to ensure a safe and secure detention environment for staff and aliens in detention:

- 2026 National Detention Standards
- 2025 National Detention Standards
- Non-Dedicated Intergovernmental Detention Standards (NDIDS)
- PBNDS 2011
- NDS 2019
- Family Residential Standards 2020

- Temporary Housing Standards

Detention Facility Oversight

To ensure compliance with each contract's terms and conditions and the applicable detention standards, ICE and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) employ a robust, multilevel oversight and compliance program. ERO monitors detention conditions through daily on-site compliance reviews to identify deficiencies, areas of concern, contract and facility issues, and to facilitate corrective actions. All facilities that house aliens detained by ICE are required to follow a strict set of detention standards.

Detention Policies

Detention is non-punitive. Once an alien is transferred to ICE custody, the agency makes a custody determination. ICE uses its limited detention resources to detain aliens to secure their presence for immigration proceedings or removal from the United States — as well as those that are subject to mandatory detention, as outlined by the Immigration and Nationality Act, or those that ICE determines are a public safety or flight risk during the custody determination process.

When an alien is not subject to mandatory detention or is not deemed to be a public safety or flight risk, ICE exercises its discretion in making custody determinations to release aliens with conditions. These custody decisions are made on a case-by-case basis and after considering the totality of circumstances — primarily considering risk of flight, national security threat and risk to public safety.

ICE also takes other factors into consideration — including when an alien has a serious medical condition, is the primary caregiver of minor children, or other humanitarian considerations.

Family Detention

In the past, ICE housed family units — which contain adult alien parents or legal guardians accompanied by their own juvenile alien children — in its Family Residential Centers (FRCs). In March 2021, ICE converted the Family Residential Centers (FRCs) from an over-72-hour residential program to an under-72-hour residential/staging program called Family Staging Centers (FSCs).

In FY 2022, ICE opted to shift its resources again to increase efficiencies in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) enrollment for family units. ICE worked to co-locate with U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) to assist with limiting any processing slowdowns.

Once the agency determined that the FSCs were at a lower-than-expected capacity, ICE took steps to increase the use of the bed space for single adults and eventually, ICE stopped housing families entirely by December 2021.

Custody and Care of Unaccompanied Children (UC)

ICE does not detain unaccompanied children — except in rare instances.

- As part of the restructuring of the former Immigration and Naturalization Service, the Homeland Security Act of 2002 transferred the responsibilities related to the care and custody of unaccompanied undocumented children to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR).
- In accordance with the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act (TVPRA) of 2008, ERO coordinates closely with inter-departmental partners to ensure the timely and safe transfer of unaccompanied alien children from DHS to HHS ORR custody.

Detention Statistics

ICE provides the following custody data below. The data tables are searchable and sortable, and worksheets are protected to ensure their accuracy and reliability. ICE confirms the integrity of the data as published on this site but cannot attest to subsequent transmissions. Data may fluctuate until it is locked at the conclusion of the fiscal year.
