Dear Leader McConnell, Leader Schumer, Speaker Ryan, Leader Pelosi, Chairmen Shelby and Frelinghuysen, and Ranking Members Leahy and Lowey:

We write as a cross-section of organizations to demand that Congress adhere to a basic principle of good governance in considering the Fiscal Year 2019 DHS budget, and specifically its border wall component: No funds should be appropriated without adequate information and time to analyze prior spending; otherwise good money is likely to be wasted without proper consideration of alternatives or past misuse of taxpayer dollars.

The Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2018, passed in March, required the Secretary of Homeland Security to submit to both Appropriations Committees, on or before September 19, a risk-based border-security plan. That border-security report is now more than two months overdue, with no guarantee from the DHS Secretary that it will even be provided by December 7, when appropriators are considering DHS's request for billions more in border wall funding. Such inexcusable delay pushes back the Comptroller General's required evaluation of the plan and makes considered deliberation by this Congress of additional border wall funding in the pending DHS budget impossible.

Had the report been submitted on time, Members would have the Department's analysis of optimal location and staffing of border-security resources, their "effects on communities and property owners," and "the environmental impacts, including on wildlife." In addition, there would be a required Department plan to consult stakeholders on eminent domain and other construction issues. Members - and the independent Government Accountability Office - could have evaluated DHS's methodologies for measuring border security through proposed performance metrics.

Without submitting this plan in a timely fashion as requested by congressional appropriators, DHS has kept Congress in the dark on crucial oversight information such as a "description of the status of ... open recommendations by the Office of Inspector General and the Government Accountability Office relating to border security, including plans, schedules, and associated milestones for fully addressing such recommendations." There are myriad reasons to debate thoroughly the wisdom and efficacy of border wall funding on its merits. By failing to submit this report, however, DHS has forfeited the argument this year. Congress should deny a rushed process of border wall funding consideration without a reasonable period, extending into 2019, for Members and GAO to evaluate the report DHS was ordered eight months ago to prepare and produce.

Respectfully submitted,
