Jeff,

It was David O'Leary who I spoke with regarding the $39million (see below). He may have more information on what Congress was trying to do here. In terms of the 45 day briefing requirement, the FY 2016 appropriation was enacted December 18, 2015. As a result, we are past the 45 days, assuming no report has already gone up.

Thanks,

Ryan

Thanks. One meeting has been cancelled, possibly the other depending on what OPM does tonight. Ryan, Can you try to touch base with your counterparts at FEMA in the next couple of days (perhaps tomorrow if you are teleworking). As you know, there is a requirement in the appropriations bill for a briefing to the appropriators 45 days after enactment (feb 1) on the plan to spend the $50 million. George and I have talked to Chris Logan at FEMA yesterday about how to get(or keep) the ball rolling and we heard from Senate staff today that they expect an on time briefing, which FEMA has said they are driving toward (b)(5)

(b)(5)

(b)(5) This may be ambitious and I'm happy to discuss my thinking on this and some things we discussed yesterday. I'm free be cell phone tomorrow afternoon and maybe before lunch as well if our hill meeting is cancelled.

Thanks

Dave

David,

Thanks for your note. It is good to meet George, even if only by e-mail for now. I have my fingers crossed for your meetings with the Hill, but the forecast is not looking good.

Thanks,

Ryan
