I don't know if you guys use this yet or not. This website logs all of the hits from police cars that have the cameras mounted on the outside of their cars to read license plates. It will show you photos of the vehicles and it will map every location that the vehicle was at when it was photographed. I thought this might be helpful finding fugitives that you have license plates for. If you already use this then forget I mentioned it.

As you suspected, I never received a response from the three people (FOSC and HQ) that I sent the email to about getting national subscriptions to the license plate system. Please write up a proposal in memo format to the FOD, through me, requesting (b)(7)e You really need to sell the system and how it will benefit the field office with arrests (particularly criminals). I don't think we can fund this for the entire field office on one PCTW due to the cost. If the sub-offices want to get accounts they'll need to submit their own PCTWs should the FOD concur with paying for this. Attach the quote from the provider to the memo and I'll pitch it upstairs.

SUBJECT: National Vehicle Locator System access

Issue:

Atlanta Fugitive Operations Teams are requesting increased access to the National Vehicle Locator System (NVLS) database to locate removable aliens.

Background:

The NVLS database is a Law Enforcement tool available to Officers nationwide. Essentially, the database is populated by data gathered by local municipalities' installation of cameras on the rear of patrol vehicles. This data is uploaded in real-time to the NVLS database. With NVLS access, Officers can pinpoint the exact location of a suspect vehicle and the last time(s) the license plate image was captured. The NVLS database will go so far as to map the location and provide a photo of the image taken. This data saves countless hours of surveillance and increases both our efficiency and productivity.

This database was available free of charge to all Officers who signed up for access but only in a limited role. Officers were limited to (b)(7)e queries per week for the past year. Officers nationwide from ICE have been using the database with marked success. Most notably, this Officer was able to pinpoint a vehicle registered to an illegal alien with a Child Molestation warrant out of Dekalb County, Georgia. This Officer relayed the information to members of the US Marshals Southeast Regional Fugitive Task Force (SERFTF) and the alien was arrested by ICE and the SERFTF without incident in less than two hours. The database is invaluable as a law enforcement tool and countless arrests have been made solely based on information received from NVLS.

National Vehicle Locator System access

As of last month, ICE has exceeded the number of limited access (free) queries and Officers are unable to obtain information from the NVLS database. Officers are now being prompted to register for increased access (Tier II access) at a cost. A quote was obtained from NVLS account manager (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) and increased access was quoted as (b)(4) per account (per user) per year.

Recommendation:

Access to this data allows FOT members to work efficiently in our mission to locate and apprehend at-large criminal aliens. It is recommended that we obtain at least (b)(7)e

As requested, here is the quote from NVLS for more access. The NVLS database essentially gives us limited , free “look access” to the license plate records populated by the cameras on the rear of patrol cars. With access to NVLS, we can see where a target vehicle is/was parked as well as when it was photographed. This data is invaluable to us and has resulted in numerous significant ICE arrests to include a USMS Child Molestation warrant in Dekalb County last year. That arrest would not have been made without information I obtained from NVLS.

The issue at hand is that with our free access, we are limited to (b)(7)e positive-result queries per Officer per week. We are finding that our current level of access is too limited and is not providing the amount of information we need. Further, a recent error message appeared stating that the number of agency-wide queries exceeded the number allotted for our free account.

Can we please entertain greater access to this database if funds become available.

And as an FYI, I seem to remember this issue coming up last year and I think we queried the FOSC about getting greater access on an agency-wide level. Perhaps you can query your FOSC POC to see if anything ever developed from that last discussion.

Hi (b)(6), (b)(7)(C)

NVLS currently holds over 750 million vehicle scan records in the database. The data comes from a multiple of sources (please have your director refer to the FAQ's page).

NVLS uploads approximately 40 million new VSR's every month.

I submitted a request through my chain of command for a few local accounts here in Atlanta. My Director is hoping for a little more background before she will commit to this. I was hoping you could answer a few questions for me and I will forward them to the Director for her review.

1. How many municipalities are “feeding” this database.
2. Which ICE Offices are already account holders. If you have POCs at these offices, can you pls provide their names so I can forward to my director?

Thanks so much in advance.

Hi (b)(6), (b)(7)(C)

I spoke with you yesterday from Atlanta regarding an ORI registration issue. I'm looking in (b)(7)e at my ORI and our ORI in Atlanta is (b)(7)e. When I spoke with you yesterday about this, you told me to try using (b)(7)e. I tried both ORIs and got an error message stating that the ORI I entered does not match the one that was submitted when my account was initiated. From what I understand, my account information was submitted by our support center. That being said, I don't know what information they submitted to you guys in order to get our accounts up and running. Do you have any suggestions for me on what I'm doing incorrectly or can you change my account so that it accurately reflects my ORI as (b)(7)e. That would probably allow me to login successfully.

If nothing else works, I wonder if we could just delete my existing account and I could go ahead and re-register using the online registration tool if you think that would be easier. I tried registering a new account yesterday but as my email is already on file, it wouldn't allow it. Let me know what we can do. I'd like to start utilizing this database.

Hope all is well back in Williamsville.

NVLS will be used as an investigative tool, conducting official government business, under the National Fugitive Operation Program for the DAL-AOR Fugitive Operations Teams. This database will save DHS-ICE-BRO many productive man hours by identifying the whereabouts of vehicles registered within the scope of the fugitive investigation. The current method utilizes

(b)(7)

NVLS allows officers to query license plates of fugitive aliens in order to obtain the location of their vehicle(s). Officers are also provided with an image of the fugitive's vehicle. FOU has been able to test this system on a limited basis, free of charge. The results have been excellent, accounting for approximately 100 arrests in a 6-month time period. Some of the cases that resulted in arrests were formerly thought to be cold cases.

Vigilant Video is an innovative software development company that designs, creates, and delivers high quality recognition algorithms to United States Law Enforcement and federal & private security markets. Their solutions far outweigh the competition with development horsepower driven by over 75 dedicated experts specializing in the fields of software development, image analysis, Optical Character Recognition, databases, networks, and data delivery & distribution.

The National Vehicle Location Service (NVLS) Tier II is a computer database system that utilizes recognition software for law enforcement agencies only. NVLS detects and records license plate numbers on moving cars, and compares them in real-time to "Hot-List" data to offer alarms where and when needed - specifically for proactive security.

The following is a print screen of a license plate that was recently searched. The family (mom and two adult children) had been using a P.O. Box since their IJ Order. The vehicles are registered to a house that the family owns, but it is being rented out, and the vehicles are never at that location. Two out of the three vehicles were found using NVLS, both at different addresses.

Thank You Mrs. [REDACTED]

The National Vehicle Location System (NVLS) has proven to be a very effective tool in the area of fugitive hunting. Our agency has experienced several stories as a result of using your system and eagerly await to testing the tier two system. One story in particular occurred on December 08, 2010, when at approximately 2320hrs your system scanned a fugitive's vehicle at an unknown location. The lead investigator had been unable to locate the fugitive's vehicle for several weeks, but once he run the license plate in your system he had another location to investigate. On December 9, 2011 Deputies established surveillance at the apartment complex where the vehicle was scanned and located the fugitive and his vehicle at short time later. He was taken into custody without incident, due to his vehicle being scanned the night before.

* Thank you for letting our agency access NVLS and we hope to establish a long term relationship in the future.

MEMORANDUM FOR: [REDACTED]
NVLS Representative

FROM: [REDACTED]
Deportation Officer

DATE: April 22, 2011

SUBJECT: N.V.I.S. Access

I want to take the time to thank you for considering the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, Immigration and Customs Enforcement Office of Fugitive Operations in Houston, Texas for trial access to the NVLS database. During this period of Tier I access, our success with fugitive apprehensions has been enhanced far beyond our expectations. Numerous fugitive illegal aliens and other immigration violators have not only been apprehended in a shorter period of time, but several cases have been apprehended that might have otherwise been closed due to lack of further leads thanks to the information provided on targeted vehicles.

We appreciate the time you've taken to assist with problem resolution questions when we've called. Your responses are always timely and you take the time with us to make sure we know how to properly use the program.

Sincerely,

This memorandum is to respectfully inform you of our success that we have obtained using your National Vehicle Location Service (NVLS). In the past few weeks we have been able to establish timelines and locations for a current subject of investigation by Immigration and Customs Enforcement (DHS-ICE) Fugitive Operations Group. Using your system we have been able to scan for his plate and his current significant other as well. This subject has been harassing the case agents via telephone and currently has a state warrant for domestic violence as well.

On December 28, 2010, your system located our target within the City Of Miami Dade Florida. The subject's vehicle was scanned at 18:17 Hours. The subject was actually blocks behind our office at a local mall. We will continue to utilize your system, as it is one of kind.

Thank you for the dedicated support to local, state and federal law enforcement. Should you have any questions please feel free to contact me at 786-412-

Re: www.vigilantvideo.com

Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

I am writing this letter to inform you of the great potential that NVLS could be to Homeland Security investigations and law enforcement at large. I was able to run a few license plates through NVLS with several successful hits. The information provided by NVLS not only confirmed case information but pinpointed the location of the vehicles in multiple states as well as provided photographs. I believe that NVLS could be an excellent tool that would enhance our cases exponentially.

I look forward to working with vigilanvideo and sharing many success stories.

Sincerely, [REDACTED]
