November 18, 2015

MEMORANDUM FOR: Judge William H. Webster
Chairman, Homeland Security Advisory Council

FROM: Jeh Charles Johnson
Secretary

SUBJECT: Homeland Security Advisory Council
Establishing a Countering Violent Extremism Subcommittee

In May 2015, the Homeland Security Advisory Council (Council) provided me with a number of key findings and recommendations in a document called the "Foreign Fighter Task Force Report," which helped shape my thinking on where the Department needs to be on countering violent extremism (CVE). The report said among other things that:

Government should support credible messages and messengers aimed to counter the narratives of violent extremists through public/private partnerships. Government should not be the messenger, as it is immediately dismissed by the target audience, but it can assist to bring together social media, analytic experts, technology innovators, and young people to discuss, innovate and execute a counter-narrative initiative as well as net roots/grassroots capacity building efforts to amplify creditable messengers and challenge on and offline actions.

I agree with the Council's recommendation, and recently announced the creation of the Office for Community Partnerships (OCP) to help the Department move in this direction. This new office has a direct mandate to foster greater involvement from both the technology and philanthropic sectors in promoting private efforts to build and sustain networks and cultivate ideas to counter violent extremism. OCP will also explore ideas for better public messaging, how to increase the Department's public-facing CVE efforts, and suggest ways to improve our ongoing engagement, research, and law enforcement training to counter violent extremism.

Building on these efforts, I request the Council establish a Subcommittee that is focused on CVE and can act as an incubator of ideas for OCP. Establishing a CVE Subcommittee that leverages outside expertise and new thinking allows us to go beyond the way we have conventionally framed and envisioned our CVE efforts, and creates a space for us to “think big.” The CVE Subcommittee will be comprised of vetted members of the Council as well as a number of selected subject matter experts and key thought leaders from private industry, academia, and non-governmental organizations. As the Council is comprised of academic experts, community leaders, and senior level officials from industry and from state and local government, it is uniquely positioned to provide actionable findings and recommendations on CVE. The Council will provide those recommendations to the Department.

The CVE Subcommittee can expand on the recommendations from the Council’s May 2015 Task Force Report, identifying how the Department can best support non-governmental initiatives that either directly or indirectly counter violent extremism. Specifically, the Subcommittee should address the following:

- What opportunities or platforms will be useful for the facilitation of public-private partnerships with the technology and philanthropic sectors?
- How can the Department develop new networks and a framework for sustained dialogue and engagement with technology companies, foundations and philanthropic organizations?
- What other non-government sectors, besides technology and philanthropic, should be leveraged for CVE and how should the Department engage those sectors?
- How can the Department work with education and mental health professionals on CVE efforts to help parents and schools understand how they can counter youth radicalization to violence?
- How can the Department inspire peer-to-peer attempts to challenge violent extremism through public-private partnerships?

I request that the CVE Subcommittee provide a verbal update to the Council on January 21, 2016. I further request that the Subcommittee provide written interim recommendations to the Council by March 2016 and final recommendations by May 2016.

I thank you and the Council for the work that has been done to date on a wide range of important issues, and look forward to our continued work together.

Abstract of proposed collection:

Section 203(a)(1)(B) of the International Emergency Economic

Powers Act (IEEPA) grants the President authority to, inter alia, prevent or prohibit any acquisition or transaction involving any property, in which a foreign country or a national thereof has any interest, by any person, or with respect to any property, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, if the President declares a national emergency with respect to any unusual and extraordinary threat, which has its source in whole or substantial part outside the United States, to the national security, foreign policy, or economy of the United States. See 50 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.

In Executive Order 13047 of May 20, 1997, the President determined that the actions and policies of the Government of Burma, including its large-scale repression of the democratic opposition in Burma, constituted an unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the United States, declared a national emergency to deal with that threat, and prohibited new investment in Burma. In subsequent Executive Orders, the President modified the scope of the national emergency to address additional concerns with the actions and policies of the Government of Burma. In Executive Order 13448 of October 18, 2007, the President modified the emergency to address the continued repression of the democratic opposition in Burma, manifested in part through the commission of human rights abuses and pervasive public corruption. In Executive Order 13619 of July 11, 2012, the President further modified the emergency to address, inter alia, human rights abuses particularly in ethnic areas.

In response to several political reforms by the Government of Burma and pursuant to authority granted by IEEPA, the Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) issued a general license (GL 17) on July 11, 2012 authorizing new investment in Burma, subject to certain restrictions and conditions.

In order to support the Department of State's efforts to assess the extent to which new U.S. investment authorized by GL 17 furthers U.S. foreign policy goals of, inter alia, improving human rights protections and facilitating political reform in Burma, GL 17 requires U.S. persons engaging in new investment in Burma to report to the Department of State information related to such investment, as laid out in the "Reporting Requirements on Responsible Investment in Burma," (hereafter referred to as the "collection"). This collection is authorized by section 203(a)(2) of
