Things are cool. Talked with [REDACTED] They understand the current technical issue. They have identified an operational issue with the Functional Standard and drop down choices on suspicious behavior. They will document the issue and forward to us.

On the positive side, [REDACTED] seemed quite pleased to be able to query other Shared Spaces sites. We also discussed eGuardian and cleared up some confusion. They had submitted new SARS to eGuardian using the push but did not see them in eGuardian to verify receipt. They now understand that the push feature is not operational yet pending completion of the privacy policy.
