This message is being sent to you on behalf of Thomas J. O'Reilly, Director Nationwide Suspicious Activity Reporting (SAR) Initiative (NSI) Program Management Office
Colleagues,

The FBI is making a significant change to Guardian's 30-year record retention policy to align with the NSI/eGuardian's retention policies which are already compliant with PMISE's Privacy Policy requirements. Please join NSI and FBI staff to learn more about this change on Monday, August 29, 2011 at 4:00 pm EST. If you are unable to participate, please assign an appropriate designee.

As we approach the ten-year anniversary of September 11, we are anxious to receive your input on the impact of this policy change. This is also an important opportunity to discuss anticipated improvements to SAR information sharing resulting from this announcement – particularly as it relates to how SARs can be shared more efficiently for analysis by the FBI which is so critical to investigating and preventing terrorist activities.

Please call 1-866-200-5786, ID 3975495

I appreciate your efforts to arrange your schedules to join us for this important call. Everyone stay safe this weekend as the east coast battens-down-the-hatches.

Sincerely,
Tom O'Reilly
