I have concerns abt the document they're pulling together, but have it set up to where they are sending it to us for review before finalization. Most of the content they want is already written for both us and s4. Shouldn't be a heavy lift, just don't want them altering it (doc now says I&A manages NSI!).

Hi Tom and David,

Hope you are well. I wanted to report on the call and webinar that we had with [REDACTED] of the NCRIC (San Francisco) who is with the FBI. The purpose of this call was to support [REDACTED] visit to the NCRIC.

During the discussion, [REDACTED] asked the question "Why so I need to search the NSI Shared Space when all the SARs are in eGuardian" He termed eGuardian being the Superset of all the SARs which contained all the SARs in NSI and additional SARs that did not conform to the Functional Standards.

We told him that at the current time, not all SARs were present in eGuardian. While we had upgraded all the sites to enable them to send the SARs to eGuardian, at this time not all of them had sent all SARs to eGuardian as yet. Searching eGuardian would only enable him to access the SARs that were in eGuardian. Searching the NSI Shared Space would enable him also to look at SARs that had not yet been shared. [REDACTED] said that he had been told that all the SARs were in eGuardian.

We are working with [REDACTED] to get [REDACTED] and his team access to the NSI Search Tool.

I wanted to update you on the discussion today. Please let us know if you want us to anything else.

[REDACTED] if you want to add anything to this please do not hesitate.

Thanks
