Jim,

Thanks for sending. It's very interesting. (b)(5)

Last, it should be noted that the following technical capabilities exist today and are fully functional:

1. Fusion Centers can share every SAR with eGuardian and shared space simultaneously through the NSI.
2. Shared space and eGuardian can share and exchange information routinely.
3. A pre-vetted and field supported technical solution that would allow FBI Headquarters to review every single SAR before it goes into shared space and move any or all of those SARs into eGuardian/Guardian without regard for the fusion center's sharing choice exists and can be implemented immediately if the FBI desires.
4. FBI Headquarters and field office/JTTF staff have access to all SARs in shared space via the search tool.
