Stuart, Dave, and Monica --

The following is a list completed (and nearly completed) items and longer term projects related to eGuardian and the Nationwide SAR Initiative. (I really apologize for the length but a lot has happened over the last two months.)

The bottom line is that a lot of progress has been made and there's been very good coordination and cooperation between BJA and the FBI.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks.

Nancy

Completed/Nearly Completed Items

Technological Synchronization of Data Fields (Completed)

- eGuardian and Shared Space used different data fields for SAR information. FBI/BJA engineers worked with the Fusion Centers to correct this so that no SAR data would be lost in transmission from the Fusion Centers to eGuardian.

Retention/Redress Policy for Guardian (Completed)

- The Guardian retention policy has been changed from 30 years to 5 years (followed by a 5-year archive period) and procedures are in place to allow removal of records from Guardian, when necessary.

Unified Messaging (Completed/Ongoing)

- The Intl Association of Chiefs of Police hosted a meeting last month with senior officials from multiple federal, state, and local agencies and organizations to reaffirm everyone's commitment to work together to ensure a unified approach to NSI. (I attended the meeting; it was very productive and seemed like a watershed moment in federal/state/local coordination on SARs.) The group has continued to work together over the last 6 weeks to develop a unified message on a number of topics (reporting, training, outreach, etc) and is developing messaging products that, when cleared, can be distributed under the NSI "umbrella" on a letter with multiple agencies' seals.
