Here is what I have for now. Let me know if you need anything else. Please let me know when everything is set on your side and we'll let the sites know.

Doesn't need to be all at once. Something to be said for a few at a time, vice big bang.

I have a list of at least half of the sites that I will send today. I'm hoping to complete the list at a meeting this week.

Dave,

I concur--we are ready to push incidents into production. Yes, I just need their name and LEO email. Once we have that, it takes a little time to establish the "import-auto-workflow" that moves an imported incident all the way to the JTTF (as if the user pressed the "refer" button).

This is good news (b)(6). Please ignore the file that did not load. I believe our team pushed up a sample attachment file which I had them remove. Now that it appears the ingest is working properly I will send you the information of those who can push files to eG. You just need their name and LEO email address, correct?

Let me know if we have to do anything else on this side. I'm feeling good about getting another step closer to making the ingest portion of our quest a reality.

Testing of the files (there's a bunch queued up now) will begin this week.

Just a follow up on the testing of the files forwarded? Also, the team has prepared one file with an attachment for testing and are in the process of working with Chicago PD for additional test files. I'm holding the attachment file until we get the others tested. I'll wait to hear from you.

David
