
From: O'Reilly, Thomas
Sent: Thursday, August 18, 2011 10:10 AM
To: Horne, Sabra
Subject: FW: NPR

From: O'Reilly, Thomas
Sent: Thursday, August 18, 2011 10:06 AM
To: Burch, Jim; 'Sabra E Horne'
Cc: Black, Katherine
Subject: NPR

I would keep it simple like

The shared space and federated query is the method/resource that the FBI and all NSI participants with privacy policies in place can access SAR information. With this in mind, all SARs in eGuardian are available in the NSI Federated Search, as well as information submitted by Fusion Centers and DHS. The FBI has access to all SARs in the NSI Federated Search. There are currently more than 15,000 SAR available from all sources , however this is a dynamic system with information constantly being added and purged.

Sharing the gross number and indicating (its true) that the total bounces both up and down is the way to go. If you guys agree you may want to push this out although the horse may be out of the barn. Let me know if you need anything else.