* (U) The 2008 Attorney General Guidelines for Domestic FBI Operations authorizes the FBI to engage in planning and intelligence analysis to facilitate investigative activities. Activities the FBI may carry out as part of this process include collecting information to improve or facilitate "domain awareness" and engage in "domain management."

† (U) FBI assessments are supported by information that varies in scope, quality, and sourcing. Consequently, the FBI ascribes levels of confidence to judgments. Confidence levels also indicate the value the author places on analytical judgments. High Confidence generally indicates that judgments are based on high-quality information from multiple sources or from a single highly reliable source, and/or that the nature of the issue makes it possible to render a solid judgment. Medium Confidence generally means that the information is credibly sourced and plausible, but can be interpreted in various ways, or is not of sufficient quality or corroborated sufficiently to warrant a higher level of confidence. Low Confidence generally means that the information's credibility and/or plausibility is questionable, the information is too fragmented or poorly corroborated to make solid analytic inferences, or that the FBI has significant concerns or problems with the sources.
