

In an effort to improve the [REDACTED]

To provide a baseline of understanding, agents currently have an affirmative responsibility to collect and report information that addresses intelligence requirements while carrying out their normal case-based investigative duties. The intelligence requirements generally involve [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] that informs and improves the understanding of [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] The FBI's intelligence requirements by investigative program [REDACTED]

b7E

While conducting case-based investigations, Agents also have a significant opportunity to recognize and develop information of an intelligence value that surpasses the immediate objectives of the case, is responsive to established intelligence requirements, and should be shared with others who have a need for that intelligence.

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] which agents and Squad

SSTs should be aware of:

[REDACTED]

1. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

2. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

b7E

3. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

4. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

5. Example: [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[redacted] Only those items identified by agents as [redacted] As an example, it will no longer be necessary for the [redacted]

b7E

[redacted]

b7E

[redacted] At your request, the FIG can attend your squad meetings to provide additional explanation as required. Please share this with your agents.