Dear Stephanie,

I just completed the Citizens' Academy. I learned a great deal about the F.B.I. and how it works. I have always held the F.B.I. in high esteem, but your agency has exceeded my expectations. I was very impressed with all of the agents and staff who put the program together. S.A. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] did an exceptional job in coordinating and [REDACTED] did a great job moderating. The people I met are as sharp and committed as any group of people I have been involved with in the business world. (I was a national sales manager, CEO and Chairman of the Board of various companies.)

My purpose for attending the Citizens' Academy was to possibly find an area that I could volunteer and help in some capacity. I am particularly interested in defending this country against terrorism. I realize that I am too old to become an agent and I am sure the F.B.I. doesn't need an older untrained guy getting in the way of what you are trying to accomplish. Any thoughts you have about how I might help would be appreciated.

I am not sure what the goals of the F.B.I. are in regards to the Citizens' Academy. I have not yet been to the range and participated in the graduations so maybe I will learn more there. I would be happy to meet with [REDACTED] or anyone else to give my thoughts on how to improve the C. A. or how the F.B.I. might effectively use this asset.

One more thought. I have been performing stand-up comedy for the last ten years. (Something I have wanted to do since high school) Not exactly a resume builder for the business world or the F.B.I., but I am having fun with it. I am not sure if the F.B.I. ever has entertainment at their meetings but if you are interested I could write some material specific to the F.B.I. and perform at one of your regional meetings etc. I would be happy to talk with you or one of your staff if you have an interest.

Thanks for the opportunity to attend the Citizens' Academy. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

*I enjoyed the program! you
