

The diagram illustrates the structure of a polymeric material. It shows a central core region labeled 'e' (electroactive) and a surrounding matrix region labeled 'p' (polymeric). The core 'e' is composed of alternating blocks of circles and squares, representing different polymer segments. The matrix 'p' is composed of small circles. The overall structure is labeled 's'.

