Hi (b)(6) –we’re still waiting for the Front Office sign off. You were on that original email we sent, right? Maybe you want to re-up on that chain and remind folks of (b)(6) briefing tomorrow? Once they sign off, we should be able to get it up pretty quickly...

Hey (b)(6)
I wanted to check in to see if you had any sense of the launch day/time for the website? (b)(6) is briefing the Hill tomorrow and was hoping that this could be public by then so he could announce it as one of the SIP deliverables that has been accomplished (b)(5)
(b)(5) Let me know if you think launching by tomorrow is feasible.

Thanks,
(b)(6)

This sounds good—we can also send with the blog post since we’ll post that around the same time. Once we have edits from the FO we’ll have a better sense of launch day/time. Thanks.

Hey (b)(6)

Once the website is officially launched, we were thinking it would be useful to send the link out to all of our stakeholders (in the same way that we sent the SIP out). If that sounds ok with you, would the following language work:

Sender: (b)(6)
Recipient: (b)(6)
