Importance: High

Good Afternoon:

The "Don't be a Puppet" program will 1) make teachers and educators extension of law enforcement. Focusing on policing and surveilling students inside, and outside the classroom on their social media accounts, instead of teaching and ensuring our children learn; 2) lead to more bullying as the program is also geared to use by students, where the exercises particularly point out students with Arabic sounding names and a particular faith; 3) curb learning and discussion of ideas, silencing speech, so as to not be identified as "at risk."

ADC's 1 pager on impact of CVE and "Don't Be a Puppet" program on schools, teachers, students, and unions is attached. (will be online shortly)

Rep. Bennie Thompson's letter re: CVE and the FBI program including the "Don't Be a Puppet" web-based program in schools and impact here: <http://chsdemocrats.house.gov/sitedocuments/lynchletter.pdf>

Here is also the NCTC report on the "risk factors" for radicalization which provides foundation of how the "Don't Be a Puppet Program" risk factors identified in the web exercises. You will see that these risk factors are broad and over inclusive, including risk if parents are not actively involved in child's education (so all children of single parents, or working-poor parents) <https://www.documentcloud.org/documents/1657824-cve-guide.html>
