JTTF Concept

“Much of the FBI’s success can be credited to the longstanding relationships we enjoy with our intelligence [and] law enforcement partners...the FBI’s partnerships are essential to achieving our mission and ensuring a coordinated approach toward national security threats.”

- FBI Director James B. Comey
Statement before the Senate Judiciary Committee
May 2014

UNCLASSIFIED

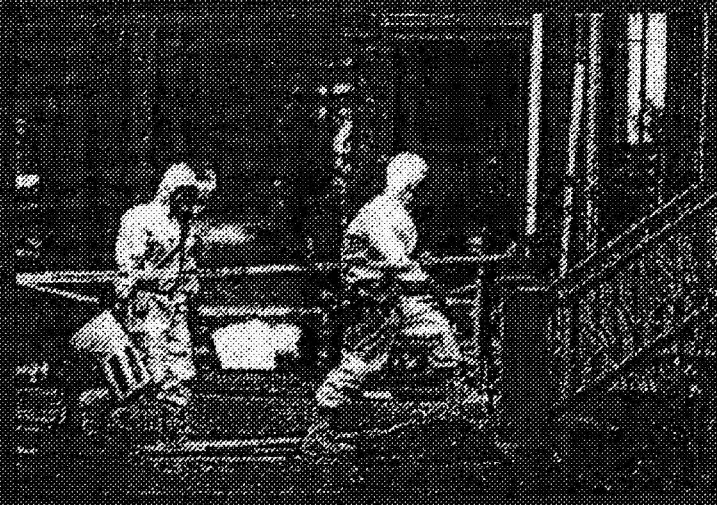

UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO

JTTF Concept

- Cooperative effort – criminal and intelligence problems facing U.S.
- Full-time members = equal clearances and accesses
- FBI-managed & supported
- Establish Memorandums of Understanding between FBI and participating agencies

Protecting the homeland from terrorist attacks is the responsibility of all law enforcement agencies. No single police or intelligence agency can unilaterally accomplish this mission.

UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO

UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO

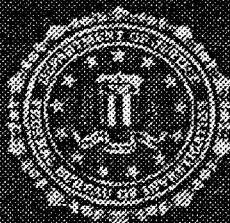

JTTF Benefits

- "One Stop Shopping" for law enforcement & terrorism investigations
- Shared Intelligence Base
- Task force members are aware of related investigations within their jurisdiction and assist in investigations in other jurisdictions
- Familiarity among agencies — investigators and managers meet prior to a crisis

UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO

UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO

Origin of the JTTF

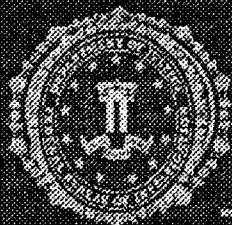

- Pre-1979 – Agencies approached investigations as single agency case specific focus with little collaboration
- 1979 – FBI initiates use of dedicated Task force concept in New York to address significant bank robbery crimes

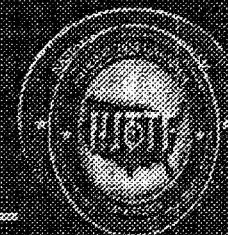

- 1980 – FBI establishes first JTTF with NYPD in response to increased number of terrorism related investigations

UNCLASSIFIED

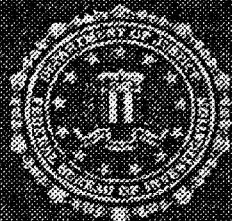

JTTFs by the Numbers

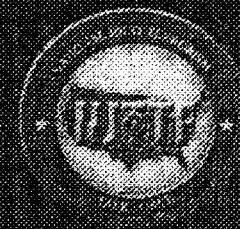

- 1980 – first JTTF established in New York City
 - 1996 – 11 JTTFs nationwide
 - 9/11/2001 – 35 JTTFs
 - By end of FY2002, a JTTF had been established in all 56 FBI Field Offices
- Today – 56 Field Offices + 48 Annexes = 104 JTTFs
 - Approximately 4,000 participants (2,500 FBI)
 - 514 federal, state, and local agencies
 - 56 federal; 458 state/local

Agency Coordination Team (ACT)

- ☐ The Agency Coordination Team (ACT) was established in September 2012, as part of the FBI's response to the events at Fort Hood and based on the recommendations of the Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee and the Judge William H. Webster Commission.
- ☐ The mission of the ACT is to continuously enhance liaison relationships between the FBI and federal, state, local and tribal agencies in an effort to increase mutual cooperation and information sharing.
- ☐ ACT will coordinate and monitor all International Terrorism (IT) and Domestic Terrorism (DT) investigations involving subjects employed by or contractors for Federal agencies outside of the Department of Defense (DoD), and subjects employed by or contractors for state, local, or tribal law enforcement agencies.
- ☐ The implementation of the ACT established a formal structure and clearinghouse for passing information through the NJTTF, as well as to clearly outline notifications amongst headquarters and/or field entities of both organizations whenever an employee or contractor from an impacted agency becomes the subject of an IT or DT investigation by the FBI.

Agency Coordination Team (ACT)

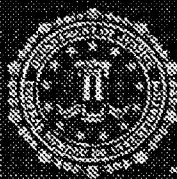

□ The Agency Coordination Team (ACT) was established in September 2012, as part of the FBI's response to the events at Fort Hood and based on the recommendations of the Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee and the Judge William H. Webster Commission.

□ The mission of the ACT is to continuously enhance liaison relationships between the FBI and federal, state, local and tribal agencies in an effort to increase mutual cooperation and information sharing.

□ ACT will coordinate and monitor all International Terrorism (IT) and Domestic Terrorism (DT) investigations involving subjects employed by or contractors for Federal agencies outside of the Department of Defense (DoD), and subjects employed by or contractors for state, local, or tribal law enforcement agencies.

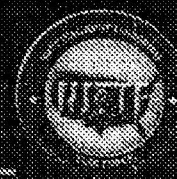

□ The implementation of the ACT established a formal structure and clearinghouse for passing information through the NITTF, as well as to clearly outline notifications amongst headquarters and/or field entities of both organizations whenever an employee or contractor from an impacted agency becomes the subject of an IT or DT investigation by the FBI.
