Subject: LA Interagency CVE Deep Dive

Greetings,

I hope everyone had a good Thanksgiving. As requested, I have attached the agenda for the interagency group the USAO and I are hosting this week in LA. I have also attached a description for an event LAPD is hosting focused on resilience which we were able to get group admission into. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Here is a blurb on the purpose for trip:

Staff from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Department of Justice (DOJ), Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and the National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) will visit Los Angeles December 3-5, 2013. Our goals are (1) to collect locally driven and grassroots best practices in community engagement, community oriented policing, training, information sharing, partnership building, and program implementation from federal, state, territorial, tribal, local, and community partners that can be shared with other communities across the country; (2) learn how the federal government can best support these locally driven and grassroots efforts to counter violent extremism and prevent violent attacks; (3) and share information regarding federal resources where applicable. During the course of this trip, we hope to meet with federal, state, and local government officials and law enforcement officers as well as with community partners to get their thoughts and perspectives on these efforts.

This visit is part of an effort spearheaded by the Deputy Secretary of DHS, the Deputy Attorney General, the Deputy Director of the FBI, and the Director of NCTC to better understand the landscape of local efforts to foster resilient communities, counter violent extremism, and prevent violent attacks. Through these visits and others like it, we hope to cross-pollinate good ideas among locally-based programs and connect practitioners around the country.
