Hi (b) (6)

I met with you last year regarding my dissertation that examines the implementation of CVE in the US and public opinion surrounding CVE. I am in the process of finishing up my research for my dissertation, and I just wanted to touch base with you to see if there has been any major changes for CVE in LA since last fall. Any updates would be appreciated. I hope all is well with you and please let me know if there is anything I can incorporate in my research to assist you all.

Best,

(b) (6)

Give me a ring when you're in lobby.

See you at 2.

Hi (b) (6),

I had a cancellation on Monday and I can now meet at 1 if that still works with you. Please let me know. Thanks so much.

Best,
(b) (6)

Hi (b) (6)

Thanks for getting back to me. I have another interview already scheduled on the 16th from 130-2. I just don't want to cut it too close. Are you available at 1230? Or any other time on Monday?

Best,

Hi (b) (6)

I am just following up with my previous emails. Are you available to meet during my time in LA? If not, we can also try to schedule a phone interview.

Best,

Hi (b) (6) -

Thank you so much. I do not anticipate it taking longer than 30 minutes of your time. What date/time works best for you?

Best,

Thanks for the email. Happy to participate. Do you know how long the interview would take?

Thanks.

Subject: interview inquiry

(b) (6) [redacted] -

My name is (b) (6) [redacted] and I am a PhD student at Cornell University in the Government Department. I am contacting you because I am conducting a dissertation on the implementation of countering violent extremism programs within the United States and United Kingdom. My mentor, Dr. (b) (6) [redacted] gave me your contact information and I was wondering if you would be willing to participate in an interview with me.

This is a voluntary interview in which I will ask you information about countering violent extremism programs in your community and the implementation process surrounding these programs. Although this interview will not provide you any direct personal benefit, it will provide you an opportunity to discuss a topic that you are passionate about. Additionally, I do not foresee any personal risks for you in participating in this interview. However, if you would like to keep this interview anonymous, I will take measures to protect your identity and not reveal your name in my dissertation, although, information sent via email can potentially be read by a third party.

I will be visiting LA from Nov 14-17 and then again sometime in the spring. If interested, I can also conduct the interview via telephone at your convenience. If you are interested in participating, please provide a time and place that is most convenient for you to meet. I am attaching an IRB consent form to this email for you to review. If you agree to participate and meet with me, I will provide this form to you again when we meet and have you sign this form. If you would like this interview to be anonymous I can also conduct a verbal consent script rather than the written form.

Thank you for your time.

Best,

(b) (6)
