Hi Nameun,

With Martin's agreement, please accept the changes that we have agreed to, and leave the questions and changes that I made yesterday. Then forward to me for review prior to sending to Mere.

Thank you,

Hi,

This looks good and I'm comfortable with it per the notations. I want to point out that for all intents and purposes, this is not "Software as a Service" (SaaS). Rather, we are subscribing to receive data generated by OED customers, processed by the vendor (ID.me) who will send the result of such processing to OED. Consequently, we will own the data provided to us by ID.me. This is one of the reasons DAS has precluded the completion of a "cloud workbook".

It is a subtle understanding, but there are myriad understandings when a "cloud" product is mentioned or considered.

Please let me know if I can provide any additional information.

Cheers,
Martin

Hi Martin,

Please review the email thread below for context. In the attached contract draft you will note in section 9 that IDme has deleted the language about "work products." Although it is a small risk given the services that IDme will be providing, I want to let you know about it and get your thoughts on this. Please let me know when you can, as Bill is out today and we are trying to push this through. Let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,
Heather

Hi Lindsy,

Lori suggested that I forward this email string to you about the IDme contract. The gist of the thread is that there is some risk to not having “work products” defined in contract. However, since IDme isn’t providing the services to OED, rather they are providing them to our customers, I think the risk is low. I’ve asked Bill to look at it and let me know if he agrees. If he does then we can update the contract and get it sent back for final review by them.

Thank you,
Heather

Hi Lori,

If this were a service that ID.me were providing to OED, having work product defined would be very necessary to help sort out which products and IP belong to which party or both. Since this isn't a service that ID.me is actually providing to OED, then the risk is much lower.

Thanks,
Heather

Hi Lori and Bill,

I have completed my review and have only one remaining concern. IDme changed the contract to remove references to Work Products and didn't respond to my questions/comments. Bill, if you are okay with this given the scope of the services and risks for this I am okay with it as written. Please look at section 9 and let me know.

Thank you,
Heather

Hi Nameun,

I still need to know the next steps and estimated timing. If it is likely that the contract will not be finalized by tomorrow. I need to move the kick-off meeting asap and coordinate a new time with several internal staff and vendor staff.

Heather said she's done with training around 11:30 and will get w/me then.

Thanks!
Lori

Thanks for catching that Nameun. I thought I took her out of the conversation and missed that. Yes, I understand the importance of communication and having the appropriate roles communicating the appropriate information.

With that said, please remember I still need to learn/know the process and timing of what I don't know so I can continue to work on the project logistics as the Project Manager and Single Point Of Contact (SPOC). As I've discussed with you previously, there are Process, IT, Vendor, timing, Exec updates, meetings, and other logistics I need to piece together. It is my job to ask these questions and I need you to let me ask what I don't know and let me be the project SPOC. Due to the priority of this and importance of the right folks to attend, I need to preset whatever meetings I can to ensure the availability of all the right folks.

I need to know the process and timing.

Thanks for understanding!
Lori

Hi Lori,

Just a reminder - You may not include Mere (contractor) in our internal process conversation. We are still in negotiation (in the draft, you shall see there are provisions other than pricing information being discussed and our DPO needs to make sure the standard language for Oregon are not so much removed or altered by the contractor).

Yesterday we have already responded to Mere that we would get back to ID.me on the matter after review, so ID.me needs to wait for our review and approval. Let's wait for Heather (DPO)'s approval and process.

Thank you!

Thank you so much for forwarding the draft contract with the ID.me's legal language to address the pricing matter.

We will get back with you on this after our executive's review.

Hi OED team,

Apologies for the delay--it has been a bit of an insane week! I spoke with our legal team and added the following language to pricing:

- ID.me will not charge Agency for detected Synthetic Identity Fraud, to include identities created and verified with a mix of real and stolen and or false information.
- ID.me will charge Agency for detected Socially Engineered fraud, to include individuals who verify through job, romance, financial or other schemes, as those individuals do indeed exist.

Additionally, our legal team does request to exclude 9.1.5 and 9.2 (see attached). Please let me know if you have additional questions--we work weekends and can turn something around (probably) or have a meeting Monday with counsel if that is needed. I know we're trying to get this in place ASAP and I do apologize on the delays on our side.

Thank you!
