Subject: ID.me Threat Intelligence Memo (4/1)

Good Afternoon,

Attached is ID.me's latest Threat Intelligence Memo. This Threat Intel Memo covers the latest threat vectors that our security team has seen as well as the controls we implemented to address the new threat vectors. It also discusses our work with Palantir for data analytics and trend analysis: "*This is particularly important for our government agency partners so we can assess whether a single IP tied to multiple verified accounts is, say, a homeless shelter or social service agency, or an organized crime ring."

ID.me's security team is spending significant time monitoring and infiltrating criminal rings on the Dark Web. I will send over any pertinent information around OED that we find on the Dark Web.

Please let me know if you have any questions!

Thanks,
Dan
