Sorry I missed the interviews for the magistrate for foreclosure court. With so few applicants, I was not surprised that you did choose anyone.

Are we still looking for someone or did you all decide just to go with senior judges? Since the judges in the regional counties have expressed a preference for handling their own hearings, the amount of help we need with hearings is limited.

We have asked Tallahassee if we can transfer the magistrate funds to senior judge days and while, we will have to wait until next quarter to do that officially, they didn't seem to think there would be a problem.

Subject: Question on senior judge days v. magistrate hours

Hi Judge Roundtree,

Pursuant to your question in last week's magistrate interviews for foreclosure court, Mary Lou investigated whether we can use our funds allocated for magistrate hours for senior judge hours instead. (That way, we could recruit a senior judge for foreclosure court rather than trying to find a magistrate.)

The answer is yes – however, this change will require legislative approval. So, if we are certain we want to convert the funds from magistrate hours to senior judge hours, Mary Lou will have to send the request to the TCBC and then to the legislature. The legislature makes this change a few times a year – so the change would be effective in October.

So, the next step will be to make this decision definitively & let Mary Lou know so that she can take steps to secure legislative approval.

Thanks!

That would be very helpful to have around three days per week. As the docket declines, we will be able to consolidate the number of days used and probably need less at the end of the year. I think three days per would be fine.

The problem is the Court need to advise the Clerk's office when a reopen case is ready to be closed. The Family Division has a system to close re-open cases in the family law division. This has not been instituted in the civil division which includes foreclosures. If you remember it is the red "99" stamp. The Judges would stamp the document that would closes the reopen case and this notifies the Clerk's office to close the re-open statutes. I looked at some of the cases you sent saying these cases need to be in division MG but they are cases that really should be closed. Please advise how you would like to address this problem. MG

My preference would be amend the AO to require the lender to appear at mediation. In my experience telephonic appearances at mediation are worthless. If the attorney is the person with authority to settle, in my view you have an inherent conflict because of the possibility of the attorney's fees increasing if there is no settlement.

That would have to be a group decision because it will need to be enforced by everyone. I would defer to Bob and Martha on that issue. It's just been my experience that "in person" attendance gets things done either beforehand, because the banks and attorneys do not want to come, or during mediation, because they made the investment to come. Routine phone attendance at mediation lowers the incentive to move the case along beforehand or at mediation, in my opinion.

Hi Judge Griffis,

Yes, I agree with you! That would be a STRONG incentive to work it out before mediation.

Do we want to change the proposed AO to require the bank to attend in person? Right now, this language / requirement is the same as the Fla. S. Ct.'s template. Pursuant to AOSC09-54, someone who can sign an agreement reached on behalf of Plaintiff must attend in person. Plaintiff's lawyer could be this person. However, the rep with "full authority to settle" can attend the mediation by telephone – but they are required to remain on the phone at all times. (There is a specific check box on the PM's forms given to the court to indicate whether or not that occurred.)

Please let me know if I should make those changes.

Thanks,
Jen

You've done a great job on this. My only comment would be that the bank should have someone in person at the mediation. More cases would resolve via agreement prior to mediation if the banks had to actually attend. However, I understand that at least initially, this is going to be difficult for the banks to deal with personnel wise.

Hi Tracey,

OK! I think I have incorporated everything we've discussed so far. Here is a list:

1. Scope at page 4 – took out the reference to the old procedure for Form A – revert to original and standard procedure
2. AO paragraph 5 – Procedure – made your suggested addition RE the list of required disclosures and changed the time frame to 20 days (from 25) per our discussion
3. timeline at p. 19 – added the 20 day deadline above for required disclosures & the disclosures for borrower & plaintiff
4. Exhibits 4 & 11 – changed per your instruction in two ways: added in the required disclosures & added in the roll call certification
5. AO paragraph 13 – added in the language about the roll call certification. Tried to mirror the language in the rest of this section. Let me know what you think.
6. Added Exhibit 15 – Written Roll Call with Certification. Let me know what you think.
7. AO paragraph 17 – added in our Sanctions language. Didn't want to leave it out of an obvious spot it should be in. (We're taking a hard approach with sanctions – dismissal for failure to comply. I want to make sure attorneys are on notice.)
8. AO paragraph 22 – "local mediators" language – I added some language here to emphasize to the public that the Eighth requires you to give preference to local mediators. It should take you off the hook and I think we'll want people to know we are keeping things local.

1/28/2011

8th Cir 0257

9. Final intro paragraph on p. 2 – bolded some items regarding local preference – same reason as #6 above
10. AO paragraph 19 – made your suggested changes to the language regarding fee refunds.
11. Effective date p. 18 – highlighted because we definitely aren't starting on July 19 and it's currently TBD

Please let me know if you see anything or have suggestions!

Thanks,
Jen

We never really pinned down what would happen if we got an objection to the magistrate hearing a foreclosure case. We have now received our first objection from Bradford County. Will those cases go to the circuit judge assigned to Civil in each regional county? Will they be divided between the two Civil judges in Alachua County?

Please let me know how you would like this handled.

Who objected? I thought we would bundle them and have a sr. judge hear them unless the judge assigned to that county wanted to do it.

It would make no sense to assign cases from another county to an Alachua Civil judge when there is an objection. The case will have to be heard in the county where filed. It would be a better use of resources to use a sr. judge if the assigned judge did not want to hear it.

In the regional counties, the civil judge assigned will handle the case if there is an objection. We cannot assign a senior judge for an individual case. If we save them up in order to bundle them we will be creating a delay that will put us behind.

Who objected? I thought we would bundle them and have a sr. judge hear them unless the judge assigned to that county wanted to do it.

Now that the players are on board, the management of the caseload will be left to Paul Silverman in consultation with Judge Stan Griffis. Kathy should raise any questions and make any recommendations directly with Mr. Silverman. Mr. Silverman will work directly under Ted as do all magistrates. Judge Griffis will act as advisor.

Kathy, for general information and updates please keep Jennifer Jones in the loop based on area expertise, keep Judge Roundtree in the loop as Admin Judge, keep Ted in the loop as Court Administrator and keep me in the loop as Chief Judge.

When a question arises, try to resolve it within the Foreclosure Department of Kathy Janous, Paul Silverman, Judge Griffis.

Attached is the revised Assignment Order. I added "Second Amended" to the title with today's date, removed Juvenile Dependency from Judge Griffis and added it to Judge Browning under the Family Division section (pages 2 & 3) and added it on page 8 under the section Temporary Assignments of County Court Judges to Circuit Divisions.

Also attached is the revised Judicial Assignment Summary showing Dependency under Judge Browning. I put ** after the Division MG (foreclosure court) under Judge Roundtree assuming that the new General Magistrate is providing assistance in that division. If that's not correct, please let me know.

If you have any other changes, please let me know.

Thank you,
Karen

After a quick reading of the article, I think we should immediately stop entering ex parte motions to cancel foreclosure sales. It appears the foreclosure mills and banks are routinely filing these motions so that the sale will not occur and the bank will not incur liability for any homeowners' association dues which attach with the sale. I think the motion should be very explicit about the reason for the cancellation and the debtor notified before any hearing or granting of the motion.

I have stopped signing them unless there is a reschedule date. The clerks are handling these differently; many clerks are cancelling sales based on the fax motion only, notwithstanding the lack of an order. This needs to be uniformly handled by the Courts and the Clerks. Maybe our administrative judge can come up with a policy for judges and the clerks. SHG

The ultimate "chess piece" for the foreclosure firms is to not pay the clerk's fee for the sale, in which event the clerk will not proceed with the sale. If the homeowner is still in the residence, who are we to interfere with what is a benefit to them if the sale does not proceed? I think we should be very careful not to do anything that takes away or gives a benefit to either side just because we are anxious about controlling or closing the file.

With respect to what clerks require to cancel a sale, I know that Alachua and Bradford await a court order, unless the bank doesn't show at the sale and the fee is not paid. What do the other clerks in our circuit do?
