So I purchased it & it only asked for name, email, & credit card info. Seemed very simplistic. Is that all right?

Last night an incident in Kenosha brought out the worst in self interested politicians. The investigation of the shooting involving Kenosha PD lead to Gov. Tony Evers incredibly polarizing and grossly irresponsible statement against the officers involved while admitting we do not have all the details yet. None of us knows the precise justification, if it exists, for the shooting in Kenosha. What is clear is that the media and politicians are waging war on our profession and we are seeing more and more cops arrested under questionable circumstances.

Do you have the means to support your own criminal defense in the event that you are arrested and charged for a crime for your actions as a police officer? I do not have that kind of financial security and I would bet most of you don't either. If you are not already enrolled in the Wisconsin Professional Police Associations Extended Legal Protection Plan (ELPP) you can and should enroll immediately. The cost of enrollment is only $72/year and enrollment is as easy as making any online purchase either through the WPPA website or directly on the WPPA smartphone app. Do not wait until after you are involved in a critical incident to think about how you and your family will pay for your possible criminal defense.

The ELPP also provides coverage in cases of civil defense, duty disability, and worker's compensation. Find the details about the plan and enrollment > <https://wppa.com/wppa-elpp/>

The board receives no compensation for your enrollment. This reminder is solely for your benefit and protection.

Hi Mo,
Please cancel my meeting for tomorrow with the Chief & Marquise. I'll be heading w/ the team to Kenosha tonight—likely back after 3am.
Thank you.
