Re: Public Records Request dated February 28, 2014

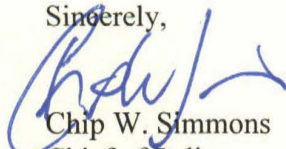

Dear Mr. Wessler:

In response to the above-referenced public records request, the Pensacola Police Department had previously identified five cases in which a cell site simulator was used in a criminal investigation. The offense reports of those investigations have been provided with this response.

As previously indicated, the affidavits and orders authorizing the use of the cell site simulators are sealed in the above referenced cases.

We have no records reflecting a list of docket numbers associated with our investigations that utilized cell site simulators. The offense reports previously referenced encompass all records in our possession regarding the use of cell cite simulators in criminal investigations.

Sincerely,

Chip W. Simmons
Chief of Police
