ORDER

McMahon, CJ:

The court has today provided the Government with a copy of a decision disposing of the pending cross motions for summary judgment on Issues 1 and 2. Issuance of this opinion was delayed to permit in camera inspection of a number of documents, which is now concluded.

The Government's motion is granted and the ACLU's is denied in significant part, but not entirely.

The court is providing a copy of the decision to the Government for classification review. When that process is completed, the court will issue a further order compelling disclosure consistent with the terms of the Decision and Order.
