Re: ACLU v. CIA, Civ. Action No. 11-933 (ABJ)

Dear Alex,

Pursuant to the Court's Scheduling Order of October 11, 2011, I enclose a draft Vaughn index of the withheld documents responsive to the ACLU's April 25, 2011 Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA") request to the CIA that is at issue in the above-referenced case. This index is provided solely for the purpose of facilitating a narrowing of the issues in dispute.

In the event that we are unable to resolve the remaining issues in this action, please be advised that the enclosed Vaughn is subject to revision until submitted to the Court in support of any dispositive motion the CIA files on or before January 10, 2012.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions about the enclosed materials. I look forward to hearing from you on or before November 29, 2011.

Document Description:

This is a 12-page Office of Inspector General (OIG) report dated 31 March 2004 concerning an investigation into allegations of mistreatment of a detainee. It contains the findings, conclusion, and recommendation of the investigations staff. This document is currently and properly classified SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13526, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended. This document also contains information relating to the organization of the CIA and the functions, names, and titles of its officers that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended.

Exemption (b)(5): This document contains information relating to intra-agency predecisional deliberations, including preliminary evaluations, opinions, and recommendations of CIA officers, and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(5).

Exemption (b)(7)(c): This document contains information compiled for law enforcement purposes, the release of which may lead to the identity of law enforcement officials and could reasonably constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The public interest in disclosure of this information does not outweigh the harm to the individuals whose privacy would be violated, and is thus protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(7)(c).

Exemption (b)(7)(d): This document contains information compiled for law enforcement purposes the disclosure of which could reasonably be expected to disclose the identity of a confidential source, and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(7)(d).

Exemption (b)(7)(f): This document contains information compiled for law enforcement purposes the disclosure of which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of an individual or individuals by revealing their identity. This document is therefore protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(7)(f).

*The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. This document is withheld in full because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can reasonably be segregated from any exempt information.

The public interest in disclosure of this information does not outweigh the harm to the individuals whose privacy would be violated, and is thus protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(7)(c).

Exemption (b)(7)(d): This document contains information compiled for law enforcement purposes the disclosure of which could reasonably be expected to disclose the identity of a confidential source, and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(7)(d).

Exemption (b)(7)(f): This document contains information compiled for law enforcement purposes the disclosure of which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of an individual or individuals by revealing their identity. This document is therefore protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(7)(f).

*The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. This document is withheld in full because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can reasonably be segregated from any exempt information.
